

FUNDAMENTALS OF DENTISTRY FOR THE ORAL HEALTH INDUSTRY:
A Dental Camp Tailored Specifically for Dental Companies, Executives and Representatives

This dynamic course is designed to introduce and enhance a broad based knowledge of dentistry as a whole, and will benefit dental executives as well as dental representatives and product specialists. This 3-day evidence-based university program will consist of lectures and hands-on workshops on fundamental concepts, terminology, and the art and science of many dental disciplines.

Topics to be covered:

- Concepts of Oral Health
- Dental/Oral Anatomy & Morphology
- Radiology
- Occlusion
- Dental Materials
- Periodontics
- Implantology
- Endodontics
- Restorative and Esthetic Dentistry
- Understanding the concerns of the dental professionals and their team

Upon completion, participants will be able to:

- Enhance their knowledge on the principles of dentistry and oral health
- Use this knowledge to better understand the dental professional
- Recognize the true professional needs of dental practitioners
- Attain powerful communication tools as they approach dental practitioners and their team

LOCATION: USC School of Dentistry

DATES: January 11 - 13, 2008

TIME: 9:00 am - 5:00 pm

TUITION: $1950

FACULTY: Dr. Gary Harmatz (Course Director)

Dr. Kim Austin
 Dr. Brent Fung
 Dr. Richard Green
 Dr. Tom Levy
 Dr. Parish Sedghizadeh

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION WILL BE AWARDED

Continuing Education
 925 W. 34th St Rm 201 J
 Los Angeles, Ca 90089-0641
 t: 213.821.2127
 f: 213.740.3973
 cedental@usc.edu
 www.uscdentalce.org

